

Winter 2009

ONLINE PROJECT

Scrapbooking & BEYOND

Transform black and white photos with inkpads and stamps. This layout uses a combination of pigment and chalk inks with dainty flower images to bring life to this sweet photo.

Sweet

Designed by Cindy Smith

Masking Technique

Stamp each flower onto a sticky notepad so that the sticky part is on the backside and cut out each flower. As you stamp the row of flowers, cover the previously stamped image with the sticky note of the same image to keep ink off that part.

Instructions

- 1 Cut cardstock to 8" x 8".
- 2 With Wisteria ink, stamp the large scalloped-edged flower in the bottom left and the top right of the layout.
- 3 Cover the first stamped image with the sticky note and stamp the mum flower image with Ice Blue ink. Leave sticky note in place and stamp row of stitches across bottom with Colonial Blue ink.
- 4 Stamp the large pointed flower with Orchid ink slightly to the upper right of the blue mum image.
- 5 Cover the mum and pointed flower with the sticky notes and stamp the dotted daisy flower image with Lilac ink.
- 6 Leaving the mum and pointed flowers covered with the sticky not, cover the new dotted daisy image and stamp the small daisy with Colonial Blue ink.
- 7 Cover the pointed flower image and stamp the small rounded flower with Wisteria ink.
- 8 Cover the upper scalloped-edge flower with a sticky note and stamp the small pointed flower with Ice Blue ink.
- 9 Ink the word "sweet" with Lilac ink and ink bird with Colonial Blue; stamp above stitches at the bottom right of layout.
- 10 Stamp the middle parts of the flowers with various inks, punch out in small circles and add to flowers with 3D foam adhesive.
- 11 Stamp the tiny flower with Colonial Blue ink, cut out 2 and add with 3D foam adhesive.
- 12 Lay photo on layout where desired and mark spots where flowers meet the edges. Remove photo and cut out the flower edges with a craft knife. Tuck photo under the edges and adhere down. ❖
